

I oppose the proposed relaxation of rules that restrict ownership of broadcast and other media. Ownership is already overly concentrated in a small number of corporations. A strong democracy requires more sources of information, not fewer.